APM PPQ

Case study

Fadiya Ahmed, Senior Project Manager at Quantity Surveying & Project Management consultancy Whitehead Allen achieved the full APM Project Professional Qualification.

Requirements

- Fadiya Ahmed was looking to demonstrate a commitment to her profession and to continue her professional development.
- Fadiya wanted to provide her clients with confidence in her project management capabilities, alongside supporting a longer-term goal of gaining chartership.

Benefits

- The Project Professional Qualification provided structured personal development to build Fadiya's professional status and develop her career.
- The qualification will demonstrate her commitment to delivering successful projects, programmes and portfolios.

Solution

- Fadiya chose Provek's PPQ specialist programme to support her in completing the four modules and exams required.
- Following module familiarisation, Fadiya completed sample exams, which our PPQ specialist trainer would provide constructive feedback on, invaluable for Fadiya to understand how best to showcase her experience effectively.

“... It was great to have access to all of the professional videos and sample exam papers on The PM Channel as part of my training plan with Provek. It was also very useful to be able to send my sample answers to the trainer and obtain feedback as part of my revision.”

Raise your project management to the next level

Requirements

Fadiya Ahmed was looking to demonstrate a commitment to her profession and to continue her professional development. Fadiya wanted to provide her clients with confidence in her project management capabilities, alongside supporting a longer-term goal of gaining chartership.

Solution

Fadiya chose Provek's PPQ specialist programme to support her in completing the four modules and exams required.

Fadiya advised that the video resources from The PM Channel provided valuable insight, particularly video interviews with industry experts on subjects that covered theory, lessons learned, and best practice techniques.

Benefits

The Project Professional Qualification provided structured personal development to build Fadiya's professional status and develop her career.

The qualification will demonstrate her commitment to delivering successful projects, programmes and portfolios. It enabled Fadiya to have more effective and confident engagement with her clients and employers.

"I believe achieving the PPQ will help build my professional status, demonstrate my capability as a project manager to my employer, clients, and colleagues and demonstrate my commitment to the profession. It was great to have access to all of the professional videos and sample exam papers on The PM Channel as part of my training plan with Provek. It was also very useful to be able to send my sample answers to the trainer and obtain feedback as part of my revision."
