Requirements

TCS wish to regularly run training programmes to equip their consultants with robust knowledge of the PRINCE2® methodology and gain PRINCE2® Foundation and Practitioner qualifications.

Solution

Provek's blended PRINCE2® training programme commences with an introductory webinar to provide the participants with an overview of the programme format.

The participants are provided with a workbook and full access to the PRINCE2® Foundation and Practitioner video courses on The PM Channel to commence their studies.

Through Provek's extensive online assessment capability, participants complete a mock PRINCE2® Foundation exam readiness test. Each participant receives a one-page report detailing their results with a detailed breakdown. Dependent on their results they then progress to the 2-day workshop.

The workshop starts with the participant sitting the Foundation exam and then prepare to sit the Practitioner exam on the final day.

Benefits

Through this blended learning programme, the consultants have been able to produce detailed explanations of all principles, processes, and themes and apply the method to a range of project situations.

They can demonstrate the reasons behind the processes, products, themes, roles of PRINCE2®.

“We (TCS) have been working with Provek for close to ten years now and they have consistently provided a superb level of customer service, which in turn has helped us deliver great project outcomes for our customers.
